

BADLANDS QUILTERS GUILD

January 2016:

Just a few notes. There were not enough members at the last meeting to conduct any business but they had a nice lunch and show and tell.

Remember sleepover coming up!! January starting January 14th thru the 17th at the AmericInn in Medora.

Be sure to bring your items for the rummage sale...some food to share for the potluck, and 20 or so 2&1/2 in. strips for a game. The guild is covering the sewing room cost. It is a great time to work on some of those UFOs or start a new project. There are plenty of opinions if you need them and some very experienced quilters if you need a little help. We also set up a snack table just in case anyone needs a sweet!! We will have access to the kitchen as in previous years.

It is a great time to sew,sew,sew.. Some start early, some work late and some seem to manage to do both!!!

We will be having a Badlands Quilters Guild meeting on Saturday at noon. Please come for whatever days you can...One or all. You only have to cover your room if you are staying over...

A VERY IMPORTANT NOTE:: The March Guild meeting which is held in Minot during their Quilt Festival is the SECOND weekend NOT the usual 3rd. They changed to date because of basketball tournaments!!
